WADDELL'S PRANKS WON FOR ST. LOUIS.

He Fooled in the Seventh Inning and Was Beaten Before He Could Recover.

JACK HARPER DID VERY WELL

Kept Pirates' Hits Well Scattered and Was Steady Throughout -Victory Places St. Louis First in League Race.

St. Louis won the first game of the season from Pittsburg at League Park Tuesday by a score of 10 to 4. This victory places the local club at the head in the League race. Rube Waddell went all to pieces in the seventh inning, after having held the St. Louisans to only three hits, all of which were made in the first inning, and the St. Louis team piled up five runs, enough to win the first game from Pittsburg, without the two earned in the first time up against

The Pirates got a basketful of errors, which aided the local team materially in the success against the Dreyfussites. In point of real interest and excitement the seventh inning was the whole game. Waddell went up in the air like an overballoon. Wallace hit a grounder to the tall Pirate, and he proceeded to fum-

Then he got a regular Nouroulah grip on it and sent it about a mile over Chief Zim-mer's head in a wild effort to catch Donovan at the plate. The St. Louis manager had only to trot in, but the real fun came when Waddell fried to make up for his skyrocket throw by going to the rubber to catch McGann on his run home. Waddell yanked off his cap, for all the world like an excited kid on the lots, and yelled like mad while waiting for the return. To his credit it should be said that he touched McGann about as quick as any one could on the throw, but the big first baseman was there too soon. Waddell remained in the half-wild state up to the eighth inning, when he was relieved by Chesebro. It was too late, however, as Jack Harper continued his fine work in the box, while the locals had tasted blood, and went after the relief pitcher for three safe ones and three runs, in addition to being helped along by passes to first.

How the Runs Were Made. The home team began well, with a double by Donovan a triple by McGann and a sinrie by Wallace, scoring two runs.

Pittsburg tied this in the second, when Ritchey singled and Leach and Ely tripled

Pittsburg added one more in the third when a base to Clarke, a passed ball and a single by Beaumont put a run over the

In the sixth Clarke's men put their sixth run on the board, when Leach was safe at Brst, stole second and took third on a wild pitch and scored on an out. All this time St. Louis was unable to even get a scratch hit off Waddell.

Pittsburg failed in the first half of the seventh.

In St. Louis's half of the inning Burkett led off with a double and Heidrick scored him with a single to right. McGann sent Heidrick to third with a single to center.

Wallace got a scratch hit on which Waddell errored trying to catch McGann at the plate, Wallace going to third on the play. A base on balls to Kruger, followed by an error by Bransfield, resulted in a count by Wallace and Kruger's going to third. An error on Schriver's grounder by Leach scored Kruger. Five runs were scored in the inning. Pittsburg again failed to score in the kett again led off for St. Louis, Burkett again led off for St. Louis, securing a pass to first. Heldrick singled, scoring Burkett. Donovan hit safely, scoring Heldrick. McGann reached first, but almost forced Donovan. The latter was doubled up a moment later by a hit right in front of the plate by Wallace, which zimmer threw to first and received again in time to put Donovan out at the plate. Palden secured a nice tangle, which scored McGann. Three runs resulted in the eighth. Pittsburg was retired in short order in the ninth, although Ritchey managed to get his fourth hit in four times up. The score: ST. LOUIS.

BY A LUCKY THREE-BAGGER.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 23.—Up to the eighth linning Tuesday's game between Boston and Philadelphia looked like a victory for the visitors, but a timely triple by Delehanty, with three men on bases, brought in the winning run for the locals. The same was well played by both clubs, and but for two bad fumbles by Demontre-tille, would have been perfect. Both Orth and Willis were in good form, but the eighth proved an unfortunate inning for the latter. Threatening weather resulted in a small attendance. Score: Tight Place.

NEW MOVE IN BASEBALL FIGHT.

taburg, Pa., April Et.—Fresident Dreyof the Pittsburg Club, said Tuesday Hart of Chicago is expected to ask for inaction there Wednesday to prevent EPUBLIC SPECIAL

League clubs from playing, on the ground that it violates the alleged agreement between the Chicago National League Club, by which, for $10,000, it gave permission to the Chicago American League Club owners to operate a club there under the National agreement. A similar agreement is said to exist in the case of Cieveland. Dreyfuss says this will be the next legal move of the National against the American League. He says in the case of Chicago a signed agreement will be produced by Hart. Owing to four feet of water on the Pittsburg grounds the League opening here, fixed for Friday, has been indefinitely postponed. Dreyfuss will try to have the Pirates stay in St. Leuis to play there Thursday, Saturday and Sunday, and to open in Pittsburg Monday.

Preliminary Contests.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Warrensburg, Mo., April 22.—The Warrensburg Normal School athletes are training hard for their field day on May 3. They are very anxious to win in their own school contests, as the victors will be assured of a tria to St. Louis to compete in the big State championship meet on May 18. At the Normal unusual activity is being shown. The mile run is coming in for its share of practice this spring. M. Williams, Eisinger and McCulloch can already cover the distance in close to five minutes. The first two named being freshmen, great things are expected of them before they leave school. The Normal will have three candidates for 880-yard honors in Kaiser, Rothwell and Coombs. The quarter mile attracts most interest among the Normal runners, and several of them are getting well down in the fifties. Rainwater is doing best right now, but Clayton, Walker, Borden, Green and Coombs are close to him.

In the sprints Ritter, Hinckel, Coordes, Cayton and Rainwater will go after the blue ribons. Ritter, Captain of the track team, has a record of 10 2-5 for the 100 yards, and 23 flat for the 220 yards. Miller and Kaiser are putting the shot at about 33 feet. The latter is about even with Williams in throwing the hammer. Smith, Bandy, Hinckel, Green and Eiliott will do the jumps.

Hurdling seems to be the favorite specialty of all the Normal men, most of whom are practicing very hard in this style of contest. Evans, Kaiser, Elliott and Bandy are pole vaulting between 9 and 10 feet, but show such style that they should go well over the latter mark in another month.

CORRIGAN 18 THE CHAMPION.

CORRIGAN IS THE CHAMPION. Old in Training at San Francisco.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

San Francisco, April 18.—After his performance in the Western foal there can be no question of Corrigan's claim upon the championship honors which he honestly and gamely won Corrigan did not win the Great Trial by sufficient margin to satisfy some of the skeptical that he was indisputably the best of his bunch, but whatever doubt there was in their minds was dispelled when the son of imp. Sain won the Western Foal stakes, in which he conceded weight to everything else in the race and beat them handly. Starter Holtman let the field off flying, with Corrigan lying in a comfortable position. Flora Pomona was a prominent factor early in the contest, but Felix Carr's crack shook, her off easily and came under the wire eased up. Five furlongs in 1:01 with 125 pounds on his back starters. Corrigan a grand colt. It is too bad that Green B. Morris shipped away when he did, for a meeting at this time between Corrigan and Golden Cottage would excite widespread interest. Since these two met the former has improved much, and many believe he is now the best 2-year-old that has shown in California.

Barney Schreiber was not sure that Corrigan could give away all that weight and win the Western Foal, and as they were putting the saddle in its place he remarked as much to Dominick, who was of a different opinion.

"If they look Corrigan in the eye." said the jockey, after listening to Barney's talk, "he will look right back at them. Don't be afraid of that weight, for he likes it; and don't be afraid to bet on him—he is soing to skin the bunch."

These words cheered Barney up, and he went into the ring and placed $200 at 2 to 1 on Felix's colt. A great many wiseacres backed Flora Pomona and Doreen to take the prize, which made the odds good on Corrigan.

It was reported that Sam Hildreth offered $19,000 for Corrigan, but Barney denied this. SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE. San Francisco, April 18.-After his per-the prize, which made the odds good on Corrigan.

It was reported that Sam Hildreth offered $19,000 for Corrigan, but Barney denied this.

"Sam said he would give Felix $7,500 for Corrigan," said Barney. "but this was some time ago. I told Felix not to let him go for less than $10,000, and it is just as well that Sam did not buy him, for he has won very nearly this amount in stakes since he made the offer. Corrigan is still for sale, but not for less than $10,000."

The total value of the Western Foal Stakes was $2,815, of which $3,015 went to the winner. This time the breeder's share fell to Barney.

CIVILL HAS STRONG STABLE.

Well-Bred Juveniles in Martin & Patton String-Van Hoorebeke, Huffman's Inaugural Candidate.

Martin & Patton of Sturgeon, Mo., have a string of promising 2-year-olds in training at the Fair Grounds. All their youngsters were bred at the Patton farm, which was established by the late J. D. Patton of St. Louis, who was one of the most successful norsemen on the American turf in his day. Alice Turner, Doctor Cave and Maud Walace are a few of the good ones bred at the Patton farm in recent years. Alice Turner and Doctor Cave were campaigned at Frisco the past winter by Dick Benson, agent for the firm of Martin & Patton. Maud Walace is at the Fair Grounds. She is a 4-yearold, and her trainer thinks she will prove a useful racing tool the coming season. A list of Martin & Patton's 2-year-olds, with stake engagements at the Fair Grounds, will be tound below: William F., ch. s., by Freeman or King Re-ent-Annie L.

Luna Minor, b. f., by King Regent-Night Shade.

William F. is a half brother to Trix, who won many a purse for Frank Van Ness at San Francisco. Annie L., he dam of Trix and William F., is the grand-dam of Aice Turner. Oton Clay is a half brother to Alice Turner. Lady Glyde, dam of Oton Clay and Alice Turner, went blind in the spring of her 2-year-old form. Pat Grogan, who was training for Mr. Patton at the time, had the filip at Memphis when she went blind. Mr. Patton told Pat to give her away, but Pat liked her breeding, and sent her back to the farm. When bred to imp. Regalis, who is now dead, she produced Alice Turner, who was an excellent race mare in her 2 and 3 year-old form.

Ethelyne is Ethel Gray's first foal. Ethel Gray will be remembered as one of the best marcs of her day on the Western turf. She won many a stake in the Patton colors at the Fair Grounds. Pat Grogan, who trained her, was at the Fair Grounds yesterday. After looking Ethelyne over he said the fily reminded him greatly of Ethel Gray when she was the same age. Golden Medlum is a half brother to Maud Wallace.

All Lilac, their dam, is a Hyder Alimare and a full sister to Conkling, a sensational race horse in his day. Eva Bell is a half sister to Doctor Cave. The latter ran several highly creditable races at the Fair Grounds last year. He is now a 4-year-old. Eva Bell is said to be a very speedy trick. Beulah May's dam, Gold Flea, is a half sister to Ethel Gray, both being out of the famous old producing mare Gold Bug. Pat Grogan, who also trained Gold Flea, says the latter was a better mane than Ethel Gray over a distance of ground. Gold Flea was Gold Bug's first foal, and, according to Grogan, she never amounted to much in her 2, 3 and 4-year-old form. As a 5-year-old, however, she developed a great race mare. Gold Bug Ethel Gray and Gold Flea, she produced Goldstone and Gold Corn. Her last foal, a 2-year-old by Freeman, is in training now.

John Huffman's Van Hoorebeke, a 4-year-old brown gelding by Van Buren—Etta Gil-

John Huffman's Van Hoorebeke, a 4-year-old brown gelding by Van Buren—Etta Gil-roy, is in the St. Louis Inaugural mighty snug at 97 pounds. This gelding showed to be a high-class performer under light weight at Chicago last fall. He won four or five straight races from the best class of horses in training at Harlem and Hawfive straight races from the best class of horses in training at Harlem and Hawthorne and stepped a mile several times in better than 1:41. He ran a mile and twenty yards in 1:42 flat, defeating a field of real good ones. He never carried over 100 pounds in any of these races, but that makes no difference in connection with the matter under discussion as his Inaugural impost is strictly in line with the weight he had up when he ran so well at Chicago.

John Huffman, who owns and trains Van Hoorebeke, is one of the cleverest horsemen on the Western circuit. He first attracted attention as the trainer of Chris Smith's Kendall Stable when Yo Tambien, Van Buren, Ceverton, Dollie McCone and other turf stars were in this string, Huffman won the St. Louis Inaugural with What-er-Lou in 1898. He prepared the son of White for this event over the private track on his farm mear Greenville, Ill. Van Hoorebeke is receiving his preparation for the race over the same course. Huffman owns Van Buren, the sire of Van Hoorebeke. The latter was named in honor of a distinguished Southern Illinois jurist.

Hughes & Elliott arrived at the Fair

Hughes & Elliott arrived at the Fair Grounds recently with a small but select string of runners, headed by the famous sprinter. The Light, and Dandy Jim, a 3-year-old by Rowland—Frances Nichols, who was one of the best horses of his age on the coast lest season.

W. H. Jacksen, Jr., who is a son of the proprietor of the famous Belle Meade stud, will race on the local tracks the coming season. He has a string of royally bred youngsters, engaged in the Fair Association's stakes. A list of the Jackson 2-year-olds will be found below: Balance All II, b. f., by Luke Blackburn-

All Mine is a half-sister to the sensational race horse Gotham. Most of the others are also half-brothers and sisters to famous performers. The younger Jackson will be a welcomed acquisition to the local turf. One of the Gerhardt boys is training his stable.

Wm. Gerst the wealthy Nashville brewer, has decided to race his stable of thoroughbreds over the local tracks the coming season. His horses will be shipped to St. Louis as soon as the Nashville meeting ends. Jockey Roscoe Troxler is to ride for Mr. Gerst this year. The Gerst string consists of 2-year-olds principally.

p. M. Civill will bring an extensive stable of good horses to the Fair Grounds this season. Mr. Civill has raced here before, but he never remained for any length of time. This year he expects to stay all summer. His horses have numerous stake engagements. Chappaqua, Civill's candidate for the Inaugural, is a 5-year-old bay horse by Iroquois-Hilda. Chappaqua was one of the best horses on the Canadian circuit last season. He ran a creditable second to The Unknown in a mile dash at Little Rock this spring. Mr. Civill has three highly promising 3-year-olds in Lawton, Tuskarosa and Battus. Tuskarosa is a full brother to the famous G. W. Johnson, who was the best 2-year-old of his year in the West. Nashville, Tenn., April 23.—Three favorites and a well-backed second-choice were among the winners Tuesday over a track that was slow, but not bad.

Delays at the post tried the crowd's patience, and when the last race was started it was almost too dark to distinguish the jockeys' colors.

Echo Dele, in the first race, threw his rider. May, and ran away two miles, He had enough left to win from Jim Clark afterwards, but it was a close call.

Ridden Out to Take the Canarsie Stakes at Aqueduct.

New York, April 23.—Golden Cottage, with Piggott up, and a slight favorite over Tamah Nawis in the betting, won the Canarsie Stakes at Aqueduct Tuesday in :564-5 seconds, fair time, considering the condition of the track, which was slow. Oom Paul was added at the last minute and seven horses faced the starter. They were sent off on the first break and Oom Paul jumped into the lead and set a merry pace into the back stretch and into the stretch with Tamah Nawis and Golden Cottage well up. When straightened out the latter took command and won, ridden out, by a length and a half. Oom Paul fought it out with Tamah Nawis, the latter only getting the place in the last

COLD WEATHER HAS RETARDED GOLF.

Local Links are in Very Backward

bumpy green. That is what he is going to get this spring. The low-lying courses have been so soft that it has been impossible to put a horse mower on. Hence, the grass is growing in bunches that threaten stiff roots and insubordinate bum roots. The cutting greens are very uneven, for the mold will not give the seeded spots a chance. The new seed will not dare spout in such wtather, and, if it dare, its tender tips would be prey for black frosts.

Of the local links, the Country Club is most forward. That is not saying a lot. Simpson was at work early, and the committee has been spending a deal of money on it. It would be in much better shape had not the mistake of putting shavings that had been horse litter on the greens but the stable had been using shavings with the straw, and both went on some of the greens. The wet weather drove the shavings into the ground, and it has not been dry enough to rake them off. Manure, in fact any kind of barnyard manure, has been long ago discarded for goif courses, for with it go seeds of weeds, and horse manure does make grass grow bunchy. When it gets shavings with it, the limit has been reached.

manure does make grass grow bunchy. When it gets shavings with it, the limit has been reached.

The new sod at the Country Club—laid about the railroad tracks—is up finely. It is very good sod, indeed, and wet set. The interstices between sods were filled with loam by, Greenkeeper Connor, and it is a very smooth job.

The bunker going to No. 6, a nasty fellow, indeed, on a day when the wind is ahead, has been well sodded and looks a lot better. I never thoroughly appreciated the propriety of the old saw about the homeliness of a mud fence until I saw that bunker. It is all right now.

The ninth green is a beauty, although hard to get at. Its verdure is almost perfect. The fourth and fifth greens are pretty, though stuck in out-of-the-way corners, but they are big and grass is good. No. 2 is still a terror to those who would approach it. On the whole, the course is much improved, and with a week's good weather will be in tip-top condition. will be in tip-top condition.

The Field Club-which is going to be a great course this summer—is going to be a great course this summer—is farther back than the Country Club, for there has been more work to do, and the course is rougher, anyhow. The changes made there have been set forth in this column. The greens will be fine, for the lake is full of good water. Professional Ogilvie will report about May I. Then the Field Club will be open for business.

I. Then the Field Club will be open for business.

Chairman McCreery of the Glen Echo Club says that grass is not growing around the eighteen holes at Normandy as it should. The course has been racked a good deal by clearing hands during the winter, and it is the most exposed of all local links. The first time I saw Glen Echo I thought it needed a deal of good liquid fertilizer to force an early growth. The sod is tine, or was fine, and grass is bound to be the best about St. Louis, but, being pasture instead of shaven and cultivated links, it will naturally take its own good time about growing. The course is well cleared now and looks ship-shape. The seeded ground has not had a chance on earth at Glen Echo any more than elsewhere.

Bob Foulis, the Glen Echo professional, is at the club. He was at the Fair Grounds last week with Mr. McCreery and Mr. Koehler and did things to their best ball—McCreery putt and all—that will not bear relation. Foulis is a little chap, short and not as stoutly built as his brothers. He has a very pretty St. Andrew swing, clean, snappy, not long, with lots of wrist in the few inches before the ball is hit. He does not get a long ball, but he does get a decent one, a straight one, and he is always on any kind of a green, not a mile away, in two shots. Compared with the terrific and huge boosts of Simpson, who is a driver two snots. Compared with the terrific and huge boosts of Simpson, who is a driver who secures exceptional distance. Foulis looks a short hitter. Alongside of the average hitter he is always up. He handles his irons in good style, is line on the deadly by it, only practice, while the others suffer loss of money and have a lot of additional hard work getting sodden courses in something like playing order after the daily rain.

The local courses are as backward now as they have been in March of previous seasons. The cold weather has not allowed the grass to grow. What has grown of it has sprouted in spots, which is worse than not growing at all. There is nothing a goffer detests quite as much as he does a bumpy green. That is what he is going to get this spring. The low-lying courses have been so soft that it has been impossible to put a horse mower on. Hence, the grass is growing in bunches that threaten some to drive. Not one in twenty drives go straight for it, no matter how carefully the distance is taken and the ball without having his right foot higher than his left.

When they open the new ninth hole at the Country Club the drive will be a beauty.
The railroad track—which runs high there—will form a hazard, running diagonally across the course. A long driver can take a chance of playing direct line of the hole with a carry of 160 yards. The short driver must drive to the right and make it a boomerang hole if he would keep out of plowed ground and the track embankment.

driver will have to use a brassie.

Work has been backward at the Fair Grounds. The new management promised money without stint for the course and evidently means to make good its promise. But the management has been slow about appointing a new Greens Committee. Mr. McCreery is chairman at the Fair Grounds and at Glen Echo. He has all he can do a the latter place and asked the Fair Grounds and at Glen Echo. He has all he can do a the latter place and asked the Fair Grounds people to relieve him. This they have falled to do. Then the racing interests have entirely swamped those of the golfers. The greenkeeper finds it quite as much a matter of trouble to get a horse for the mower from Superintendent Mathews as he did from Superintendent Cunningham. As a result the grass is odiously ragged and long and the course has not yet been rolled. Nor has it been seeded, and there are many bare patches on the greens. The men employed on the links are not skilled in the handling of sod or clay, and they worked but ineffectually while engaged digging one short bunker. Greenkeeper Frese does the best he can, but if he is not given assistance pretty soon the sooner the links is turned into a steeplechase course the better. A week's delay will place it beyond reclamation.

The amateur golfers are weatherbound. Even Mr. Stickney has not hit a dozen balls off the tee this spring. Mr. Waile, Mr. Brookmire, Mr. Walker, Mr. Drümmond, Mr. Carther and Mr. McGee, winter golfers all, play a bit now and then. Saturday was a busy day at the Country Club, and anything like a fair Sunday sends a great crowd to Forest Park, even if the links there is a waste of trees, leaves and dead grass, despite herculean labors of Greenkeeper Aitken to keep it in condition.

Ladies show more inclination to play this spring than their brothers. Many fair golfers have been out quite regularly, even if it has been cold enough to keep men indoors. Mrs. McNair. Mrs. Scudder. Miss West, Miss Klemm and the Misses Semple have all been playing a little. It is hard work for a lady trudging through the heavy fields, and most of them seem to play too much. Nine holes seems plenty for a lady at this season. She is too liable to tire with more, and when tired in the spring it is easy to lose style. Miss Bertha September 1919, who has a perfect style, started out the other day at the Country Club in perfect form. At the end of eighten holes she had lost her style completely. It does not pay to sacrifice style to love of the started out the country and the country club in perfect form. At the end of eighten holes she had lost her style completely. The McKittrick brothers, Mr. Scudder.
Mr. Collins, Mr. Joy, Mr. Mudd and other slaves of the game have not yet begun to play.

By the way, Bart S. Adams, champion of St. Louis, says he will not play enough to keep his eye in this season. Mr. Adams is up to his eyes in business. But it is a good het he will be found on the links twice a

The links of the ladies' club, the Tower Grove Park Club, are in fair condition. Mr. McGee put in the holes last week, and the course is open for play. Norman, Simpson's associate at the Country' Club, will probably act as instructor to the ladies' club. There may be better players than Norman, but there are few professionals who have had a wider experience or who are better qualified to impart what they know to their pupils.
